

Natural And Organic Food On A Budget: Real Cooking Tips on a Real Budget

As parents of young children, we of course want to feed our kids the healthiest food that we possible can, but we cant spend a fortune on food either. We have all heard more and more recently about the chemicals, pesticides, antibiotics and hormones that are present in the foods that we eat. So many of us are trying to live more frugally and stretch our tight budgets as much as we can. The idea of eating organically while also sticking to a strict grocery budget seems out of reach. But, I want to share with you some of the ways that my family has been able to include natural/organic foods in our diet, and even increase the amount of organic foods we are eating, while continuing to stick to a pretty tight grocery budget for our family of four. Located on a 160 x 25 site near the south entrance of Newburyports Clipper City Rail Trail, the Alchemical Garden is a richly layered evolving art and horticulture experience that is accessible on many different levels to the public. Alchemical Garden Plot plan Alchemical Garden is designed to become a model for a sustainable, interactive public garden through the use of symbiotic, low maintenance plantings and recycled materials. The ancient discipline of Alchemy marries art and science and is famously known for transforming a common material into gold. The Alchemical Garden will lead the community to transform on a number of levels : Alchemical Garden with Spring Wheat "Crop Circles" June, 2011 BUILD COMMUNITY: The Garden creates a gathering space for individuals to form a more intimate relationship with their community. The space is designed with visual features and seating areas to compel passers-by to pause, reflect, and have a multi-sensory interactive experience (sight, smell, touch, taste, smell) with the garden and the community.
